Headline:
Brief sunny spells and heavy, blustery showers.

Today:
A day of brief sunny spells and frequent, occasionally heavy and bluster showers with hill snow, and a risk of hail and thunder. Fresh westerly or northwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
Clear spells and showers, the showers occasionally heavy this evening then become lighter overnight and increasingly confined to the north. Cloud increasing in the northwest later. Winds easing a little. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Sunday:
Bright start across the southeast, otherwise a cloudy morning with outbreaks of rain spreading southeast. The rain clears early in the afternoon with sunny spells and a few showers following. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Dry bright start Monday but increasing cloud brings outbreaks of afternoon rain. Mainly dry and mild through Tuesday and Wednesday with some good spells of sunshine and light winds.
